INTRODUCTION

THIS volume contains a selection of illustrations of the works of the British School hanging in the Millbank Section of the National Gallery, better known perhaps as the Tate Gallery.

They have been chosen from the large Illustrated Catalogue of 1900 with a view to giving as full a representation of the modern British Schools as the limits of space permit; and to these have been added some pictures placed in the galleries since the publication of that Catalogue, and a selection from the water-colours (see page 115) and the sculpture (see page 125).

The pictures consist of the Vernon Collection, given by Mr. Robert Vernon in 1847; the Tate Collection, presented by Sir Henry Tate, Bart., in 1894, which, together with the gallery itself, formed his noble gift to the nation; the Chantrey Collection of pictures and sculpture, purchased under the provisions of the bequest of a sum of money by Sir Francis Chantrey, R.A., the interest of which may be applied under certain conditions to the purchase of pictures by the Council of the Royal Academy; a collection of paintings by Mr. G. F. Watts, R.A., given by himself at the opening of the Tate Gallery in 1897, and hung together in one of the galleries; and other works which have from time to time been bequeathed or presented to or purchased by the nation.

EDWARD J. POYNTER.

TURNER SUPPLEMENT

By the magnificent gift of the late Sir J. Duxton, the Turner Collection is now separately housed and exhibited. The new wing, comprising nine rooms (Nos. VI-XIV), is given up entirely to the works of our greatest landscape painter. Twenty canvases are still retained at Trafalgar Square. The water-colours are not included in this Catalogue.
